Supplement Sheet.

In consequence of a rush of new advertisements, we are compelled to issue a supplement sheet this morning, which contains an interesting letter from our London correspondent and such advertisements as we have been unable to insert in our regular edition.

Mexican Affairs.

Mexico—or unhappy Mexico, as she is familiarly called—was at last advised experiencing an unpleasant visit from England, France and Spain. Those three powers, like under-sheriffs, have attached Mexico for the debts due to their subjects. The Castle of San Juan d'Ulloa at Vera Cruz had been seized and occupied by the tripartite alliance. And there is yet a probability that other ports on the coast may be seized and garrisoned; and eventually even the city of the Montezumas may, like Rome, be overawed by a foreign garrison. In the Convention of October 31, 1861, "done at London," between England, Spain and France, the reasons given for the expedition to Mexico are to secure protection for the persons and properties of their subjects, as well as make Mexico fulfill her national obligations to these powers. The first article of the Convention makes it binding on the high contracting parties to send a sufficient naval and military force "to seize and occupy the several fortresses and military positions on the Mexican coast." The allied commanders were likewise authorized to take such measures as in their discretion were necessary to effect the objects of the allies; and particularly "to insure the security of foreign residents." This may mean the occupation of the country, in the interior as well as on the coast. It may mean the overthrow of the Constitutional President, Juarez, and the restoration of Santa Anna or Miramon; or it may mean, though not likely, a Spanish Viceroy; or, as it has been stated in the English papers, it may mean Mr. Patterson-Bonaparte, President for life. Whatever may be done in the discretion of the allied commanders, it has, according to the Convention, to be done in the name of the high contracting parties. In order to make the last clause more secure, article two is a self-denying ordinance, preventing either from acquiring territory, or interfering in the internal affairs of Mexico to prejudice the right of the Mexican nation to freely select their rulers. The last item may be taken for what it is worth, as it will depend on whether Mexico pays or does not pay her debts; and in case the ultimatum of the allies be not complied with by Juarez, the discretionary—we may say the secret instructions—of the allied commanders may overrule him and install some one else. The fourth article allowed the United States to become a party to the expedition as she had claims against Mexico. We have already published the refusal of the United States to be a party to the expedition. Some of the American journals seem to regard the Mexican expedition as a violation of the much-talked about but never used Monroe doctrine, and assert that if the rebellion was not on hand, foreign intervention in Mexico would not be tolerated. But such threats do not amount to much. The idea of Great Britain not interfering in Mexico, or in the affairs of this continent, on which she has as much territory as the United States, renders that popular delusion of the sovereign people—the Monroe doctrine—a vain assumption. Judging, however, from the plain letter of the Convention the allies have but two objects—one to secure the payment of their Mexican debts, the other to obtain security for the persons and property of their subjects in Mexico. Mexico has refused the one and oppressed the other. The allied powers, consequently, want no better cause for interfering in Mexico to secure their demands, the believers in the doctrines to the Ostend Conference to the contrary notwithstanding.

The debt for which Mexico has been arrested is follows:

British bondholders' debt.....	$60,621,843
Spanish Convention.....	7,270,000
English-Spanish Convention.....	5,000,000
French Convention.....	2-3,150
Foreign debt.....	$73,150,133

Besides this, the United States has claims against Mexico amounting to $3,000,000. France, it will be seen has a very small debt due her. Spain is a much larger creditor. England overlaps all put together. But Mexico has not only refused to pay the capital, but has actually passed a law suspending the payment of the interest—repudiation in fact. Besides insolvency and repudiation, robbery was added to her crimes—the subjects of the allied powers have had their property taken from them and their lives endangered, first by one faction than by another, as the wheel of civil war elevated and displaced faction after faction—the priest party, the liberals, and the brigands.

Such a deplorable state—national bankruptcy and wide-spread anarchy—demanded the interference of the allies to restore order and compel Mexico to pay her honest debts. England, no doubt, will strictly adhere to her debtor and creditor account—the sixty millions of dollars. Spain and France, it is not unlikely, may have some other object than the mere settlement of their claims. By the latest advices from the City of Mexico, which came down to the 3d of December, it would appear that the settlement of foreign indebtedness would be agreed to. The English and French Ministers had presented their ultimatums, to the effect that the law of July 17, 1861, suspending the payment of the interest due on foreign bonds should be repealed; and that Commissioners should reside in every Mexican port with power to reduce the tariff fifty per cent. or less, and divide up the revenue according to the respective creditors' demands. This was simply asking bankrupt Mexico to make the allied Commissioners official assignees. On November 26th, President Juarez proclaimed an act of Congress which empowered the Executive to concede those points. They may be considered settled; but serious questions have yet to be settled about the protection of foreign residents and their property. How this can be done, or what guarantee the allies will obtain from Mexico that they will not violate conventions and treaties as heretofore, without garrisoning their ports, is somewhat difficult to be understood. The probabilities are, however, that the fear of foreign intervention will convince whatever government may be in power for some time to come, that they cannot trifle with foreign residents with impunity. The disordered state of Mexico naturally makes foreigners skeptical of her promises; and the only hope of a better state of things is in the establishment of a stronger government. Whether Juarez, representing the Liberals, will be overthrown or sustained is somewhat problematical. England, it is said, favors him. On the other hand, France and Spain incline to Miramon, or the Church party. But until some party attains the ascendancy who can make life and property secure, and make the power of the entire government felt and respected throughout the Republic, Mexico will still continue to be distracted, unhappy Mexico, the prey to faction, and perhaps ultimately a prize to some European power.

ANOTHER DEBTOR SENT TO PRISON.—A HARD CASE.—Yesterday an elderly man named Edward Dillon, a carpenter owning a shop on Humboldt street, and represented to be an honest, hard-working man, was arrested and committed to prison under a writ of capias for a debt of $125, which was contracted thus: In May last, Dillon was employed by the Jockey Club to erect the grand stand, railing, posts, etc., at the Beacon Hill Course, and in order to procure the necessary material he was compelled to contract a debt of $282 for lumber. This amount he has reduced to $125, and declares that he would have paid the entire sum, had the Jockey Club not neglected to settle with him for the work done, thus placing it out of his power to pay his creditor. The Club—once in an apparently flourishing condition—is now nearly broken up. Since the Spring meeting several of its members have left the Colony; others have died, and some are in a still worse fix; but we are assured that if the unpaid subscriptions to the fund by members still here were paid, there would be abundance of cash to settle all demands and leave a snug balance in the treasury. From personal knowledge, we know that Dillon is not the only person, to whom the Club is indebted, who is in want of money honestly due. The delinquent members would really perform an act of charity—not to mention honor—by stepping forward at once and squaring off the amount set opposite their names on the list with their own hands. We are afraid that these subscriptions cannot be legally collected, but they are essentially debts of honor, and as such should be paid as promptly as if the Sheriff, armed with half a hundred writs of capias, was after the defaulters. When the Jockey Club was first formed, it was understood that its members were "gentlemen," and that the rules of the English turf were to be adopted here. How sadly some of the "gentlemen" have degenerated, and how far the English rules have not been carried out, we have already stated. Whether the few remaining members of the Club in good standing will square off the balance of the indebtedness, or whether a public exposure of the defaulters will be made, we cannot at present say; but it is earnestly to be hoped that a worthy fellow-citizen will not be allowed to suffer a lengthy incarceration—to the total loss of his business and reputation—through the short-comings of a few degenerate "gentlemen," to whose honor he trusted for his pay.

THE SNEAK THIEF.—John Smith alias Brent Louis, alias Charles Smith, who was caught stealing a purse containing $9 75 in silver coin, from Mr. McKay, on Thursday night, was brought before Mr. Pemberton yesterday morning and pleaded guilty to the charge of robbery, but mentioned, as an extenuating circumstance, that he was drunk at the time, and was not in the habit of going down on tills except when under the influence of the ardent. Mr. Pemberton remanded him till to-day for sentence, and in the meantime his namesake—Mr. Smith, Chief of Police—will make inquiries as to character, etc.

THE "ENTERPRISE."—This steamer arrived at 7 o'clock yesterday morning from the Sound, with freight and passengers, and at 10 o'clock left on her return trip.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.—The Speaker and Messrs. Trutch, Cary, Ring, Southgate, Burnaby and McDonald were present yesterday. A message from the Council, enclosing the Bankruptcy Bill with amendments, was received. The resolution appropriating an additional £100 for the use of the Industrial Exhibition Committee, and the resolution discontinuing the collection of the five per cent. interest charged on unpaid land instalments, passed a second reading. Mr. Cary offered the following, which was passed: "Resolved, that this House, in accepting the amendment by the Council to the Bill of Supply of £15,910, does so inasmuch as the amendment merely expresses in fuller terms the intention of the resolution of the Committee of Supply originally authorizing the same, and is in accordance with the explanation given to the Council in conference with this House." Mr. Ring moved for leave to bring in a bill to protect the earnings and property acquired by a wife deserted by her husband; leave was granted. Debate on Council amendments to the Bankruptcy Bill was postponed till Monday next—Mr. Cary expressing his intention of opposing several of the proposed clauses. Mr. Cary offered a resolution which declared that the Legislative Council had no right to interfere in matters of Supply, and ordered that the resolutions of that body, submitted some days since, be not recorded on the minutes of the House—Passed. House then adjourned till Monday, 20th inst., at 2 o'clock.

POSTPONED.—The meeting for the election of officers of the Royal Hospital has been postponed until Monday evening, 27th inst., in consequence of the Fire Department benefit, which will take place on Thursday evening next.

THE "SINK OF VICE" ROW.—The two belligerents who fought at the Fort street dance-house, on Monday night, were settled with yesterday by the Police magistrate—one was fined £3, and the other was discharged from custody.

MODERATING.—The weather last night appeared disposed to moderate. The mercury, at one o'clock this morning, stood at 20 degrees above zero—a decided improvement. Quindnunes say we shall have no more very cold weather.

BURGLARY.—Sometime on Thursday night, or early yesterday morning, the front door of L. N. Jeffries' paint store, on Yates street, was forced open by burglars and four large mirrors stolen.

RETURN OF THE "OTTER."—The steamer Otter returned yesterday afternoon from Nisqually with a quantity of wool. It has not been determined when she will leave for New Westminster.

ROYAL HOSPITAL.—There are now nineteen patients at the Royal Hospital. One of the number, a ship's boy belonging to the bark Prince of the Seas, is not expected to live.

A FULL CARGO.—The schooner Explorer will have a full cargo—about fifty tons—of freight and a number of passengers for New Westminster, and will sail this evening.

REFURNISHED.—The Star and Garter Hotel, opposite the COLONIST Office, has been refurnished. The "Elixir of Life" may be obtained at the bar.

AUCTION.—Mr. Backus will sell at sales-room, Wharf street, at 11 o'clock this morning, gin, rum, oil paintings, and groceries.

REGISTRATION.—One hundred and ninety-two persons have registered at the Sheriff office their names as voters.

EXPRESS DISPATCHED.—Barnard's Express was yesterday sent to New Westminster in a canoe.

THE W. B. SCRANTON AND N. S. PERKINS yesterday continued discharging cargo.

OUR LONDON LETTER.

[REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE OF THE COLONIST.]

LONDON, November 23, 1861.

FRANCE AND THE FINANCIAL CRISIS.

By far the most absorbing topic of conversation during the past fortnight has been the financial crisis in France. Although no one doubted but that such an event must happen sooner or later, every one was astonished at the suddenness of its arrival. The bad harvest in France, the effects of the war in America in stopping French trade, and the coming winter, no doubt precipitated the catastrophe. Some indistinct mutterings of the advancing tempest had made themselves heard shortly before in Paris, in the shape of rumored ministerial changes and intrigues to prevent them. At last, however, M. Fould, in spite of the efforts of M. Walewski, was re-appointed Minister of Finance, but only accepted office on his own conditions. These conditions, which were embodied in a programme subsequently printed in the Moniteur, were by no means remarkable for their modesty, and did not scruple to trench on the Emperor's own prerogatives. M. Fould demanded the abolition of supplementary credits, and the Emperor's own power of raising money, and stated that the only remedy for the present evil was to have every credit voted by the Chamber. Hitherto, under the Imperial regime, the Ministers have been under no responsibility except to the Emperor. They were simply the heads of departments, bound to carry out his orders. Instead of the estimates for the public services being sanctioned by the votes of independent representatives of the people, each Minister had, in fact, a budget of his own, and enjoyed the ruinous privilege of obtaining additional sums by means of an Imperial decree. The Emperor has justified the vanity of the French by keeping on foot an immense army, and by vieing with England in the strength of his fleet. The taxes raised in France last year amounted to £74,000,000, or more than was produced by taxation in England, though France is a poorer country. Yet this vast sum did not suffice to maintain the Imperial prodigality. A sum amounting to £20,000,000, or £30,000,000, has been borrowed from the Bank of France, or by appropriating the funds of public establishments. The Russian and Italian wars involved loans to the extent of £80,000,000, and altogether the Emperor, in the ten years since he came to the throne, has added £200,000,000 to the national debt of France. This includes a deficiency which at present exists amounting to £49,000,000.

With a sagacity and good sense which has gone a long way to make people forget his prodigality, the Emperor at once acceded to M. Fould's demands, and in a letter to M. Walewski, the Minister of State, the Emperor declared his approval of M. Fould's programme, and added—

"The only efficacious means to attain this end is to resolutely abandon the faculty which appertains to me of opening a fresh credit in the absence of the Chamber.

"I am determined to introduce changes, and the Senatus Consultum, which will be presented to the Senate on the 2d of December next, will contain this resolution, and determine your budget and those of the different ministries by large sections.

"In renouncing a right which equally appertained to the sovereigns—even constitutional ones—who have preceded me, may I do a useful thing towards insuring the right administration of the finances.

"Faithful to my origin, I neither regard my prerogatives as a sacred deposit which cannot be touched, nor as a heritage from my ancestors which must be transmitted intact to my son.

"Elected by the people, and representing their interests, I shall always abandon without regret every prerogative useless for the good of the public, as I shall likewise preserve unshaken in my hands all power which is indispensable for the tranquillity and prosperity of the country."

M. Fould attributes the present enormous deficit to the love which France has of meddling in her neighbors' affairs to the large expenditure for military and naval purposes, and states his opinion that a reduction is imperatively called for in the numbers of the French army. The work of retrenchment, the Patrie informs us, will commence with a reduction of the army, though no diminution will be made in the number of commissioned and non-commissioned officers. M. Fould will not propose any taxation which can "letter agriculture and commerce," but proposes—what do you think, to meet the present deficit? A tax on lucifer matches and an increase of stamp duties. This is ridiculous enough in such a serious state of affairs; but we shall shortly know more about the matter, for the French Senate is convened for the 2d of December, when M. Fould's schemes will become more developed, although his tax on lucifers betrays a wish to keep the French people in the dark. Of one thing there is no doubt, France must either disarm or send her armies to plunder Europe. The result of the latter alternative no one can foresee better than the Emperor. The probability is therefore that France will stop her naval expenditure and allow the European powers, and particularly England, to do the same. If France do not follow this plan she will soon be as insolvent as Austria, and that is a condition which the French people would not for a moment endure. There can be no doubt that a loan will have to be resorted to under the present circumstances. France can well stand an addition of £40,000,000 to her national debt, and the payment of the interest will perhaps render her less inclined to break the peace than formerly. In the midst, however, of these promises we hear that the Emperor of the French, notwithstanding the embarrassed state of the exchequer, has given orders for the construction (with the utmost despatch) of another iron-plated frigate. The vessel is to be named La Rampart, and to be built at Cherbourg. If this be true, the Emperor must be playing with M. Fould a new version of the old play "Who's the Dupe?"

A new order from the French Minister of Commerce tends to make a break in the navigation laws of France. By the old law, if a French merchant bought a foreign ship he was obliged to take it immediately to a French port. Now he may legally employ it for six months in any way on its voyage to France, enabling him to buy a ship abroad and reap the benefit of its passage homewards.

ITALY.

The Roman question is again on the tapis—but the Pope is as obstinate in preventing the wished for solution, as ever. In spite of offers of the most liberal character made by the Italian Government, and presented through the mediation of France, the Pope gives no sign of an intention to allow Italy to consolidate itself and the French troops to be withdrawn from Rome. The question is engaging the attention of the Italian Parliament, which met three days ago. On that occasion Baron Ricasoli explained the "situation," and from his explanation it appears that the only impediment to the settlement of the Roman difficulty is found in the Papal court itself. France offers no opposition, and so far as the account we have received informs us, all the rumors of a change in the disposition of Louis Napoleon are baseless. A set of propositions addressed to the Pope, and offering him everything but the continuance of the temporal power, were put into the hands of the French Government, with a request that they should be presented to the Pontifical court. They were presented by the French representative at Rome, and were rejected; and this appears to be the whole of the mystery on which Parisian politicians have been speculating. Baron Ricasoli stated in his proposals that the Italian Government could not without difficulty "restrain the impatience of the people, who claim Rome as their capital," and it is to be hoped this warning will have some effect. The Chamber have resolved to discuss the Roman question, together with that of the state of the Neapolitan provinces, at one time. The proposals made by Ricasoli are too voluminous for this letter, but I send you a copy of them should you wish to present them to your readers. The state of Italy at the present moment is full of anxiety. What with the discontent at Naples, the increase of taxation, the desire for Rome at any price, and a longing to annex Venetia which pervade the people, it will require all the patience and firmness which Ricasoli is known to possess, in order to steer the vessel of state into a safe and quiet haven. In the midst of these difficulties we hear of rumored Ministerial changes, to the effect that Ratazzi is to supersede Ricasoli. It is hoped, however, that Ratazzi will be induced to combine with Ricasoli, and so give Italy what she imperatively requires—a strong and secure Government. The advent of Ratazzi to office vice Ricasoli would be hailed in France with rapture, as he is looked upon as far more amenable to French influence, and therefore more likely to assent to the annexation of the island of Sardinia to France. Ricasoli's well known declaration that no portion of Italian territory was to be ceded to France, causes him to be looked on unfavorably at the Tuilleries. It is to be hoped that the present abject state of the French finances may have some weight in persuading the Emperor to evacuate the Holy City. Sooner or later it must be done, and all he wants is a consideration for doing it. * * *

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS correct depraved or superabundant bile, prevent flatulency, cleanse the liver, strengthen the stomach, sharpen the appetite, and give increased vitality and firmness to the nervous system. The extraordinary daily sale of these invaluable Pills, in all parts of the globe, is a sufficient proof of the high estimation in which they are generally held. It is now, indeed, universally admitted that there is no other medicine which can be compared with these for mildness, combined with power. These Pills may be taken freely without danger, and with unbounded confidence in their sanatory properties. There is really no medicine in existence equal to Holloway's Pills for removing most of the diseases which are incidental to the human race.

HEALTH FOR A SHILLING! Holloway's Pills.

Headaches, Bile, Loss of Appetite, and Lowness of Spirits.

These Pills require no interruption of business or pleasure; they act mildly on the bowels, strengthen the stomach, and promote a healthy action of the liver, whereby they purify the blood, cleanse the skin, brace the nerves, and invigorate the whole system. They effect a truly wonderful change in debilitated constitutions, as they create a healthy appetite, correct indigestion, remove bile, giddiness, headaches, and palpitation of the heart.

Weakness and Debility.

In cases of debility, languor, and nervousness generated by excess of any kind, whether mental or physical, the effect of these Pills is in the highest degree bracing, renovating and restorative. They drive from the system the morbid cause of disease, re-establish the digestion, regulate all the secretions, brace the nervous system, raise the patient's spirits, and bring back the frame to its pristine health and vigor. They increase the appetite, while they secure perfect digestion to all ordinary food, and release the invalid from restraint in diet.

A Word to Females.

There are two periods, especially in Woman's life, which require for safe passage, judgment and attention. Irregularity is apt at those critical times to take place, and to lay the foundation of future disease. These Pills, safe in action, and effective in result, must be taken at certain periods, and the issue will be marvellous both to the young and the middle aged. They prevent nervousness, hysterics, dropsy, and a host of similar serious disorders, by expelling all impurities from the system, therefore none should ever be without them.

Coughs, Colds, and Asthmata.

No medicine will cure colds so quickly as these Pills, when of long duration or settled on the chest, or even though it has assumed the first stage of asthma, they may be relied on as a certain and never failing cure, particularly if the Ointment be well rubbed into the chest and throat night and morning. If this catch the eye of any asthmatic person so bad as even not able to lie down in bed, let him well use these two preparations for only a week, and the result will be marvellous.

Blood to the Head—Diseases of the Heart.
More persons die suddenly from diseases of the heart than the celebrated supposes; in such complaints, the bowels should always be kept well open, as also where there is a tendency of blood to the head. These celebrated Pills purify the blood in an extraordinary manner, and should be taken in copious doses when such symptoms occur, taking care not to overload the stomach; by this means all danger is quickly averted.

Children's Complaints.

It is not generally known, but such is the fact, that children require medicine oftener than their parents. Three-fourths of the children die before they attain the age of eight years. Let mothers, then, be wise, and give to their children small doses of these invaluable Pills once or twice every week in such quantity as may act gently upon the system twice in the twenty-four hours. For infants, a Pill may be crushed and given as a powder in a little water. The growlers, humors that are constantly floating about in the blood of children, the forerunners of so many complaints, will thus be expelled, and the lives of thousands saved and preserved to their parents.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following diseases:

Ague	Dropsy	Indigestion	Scrofula
Althina	Disentry	Jaundice	Stone and Gravel
Bilious Complaints	Erysipelas	Liver Complaints	Secondary Syphilis
Blotches on the Skin	Female Irregularities	Malaria	Typhoid Fever
Bowel Complaints	Fever of the Kidneys	Piles	Typhoid Fever
Colic	Fits	Rheumatism	Uterine Disorders
Constipation of the Bowels	Gout	Retention of Urine	Veneral Affections
Consumption	Headache	Scrofula, or King's Evil	Weakness, from whatever cause
Debility	Hemiplegia	St. Vitus's Dance

There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT

HAS BEEN FOR THIRTY YEARS THE STANDARD

REMEDY.

It will be admitted that no better evidence of the curative powers of this EXPECTORANT can be offered than the grateful testimony of those who have been restored to health by its use, and the wide-spread popularity which for so long a period it has maintained in the face of all competition, and which has created a constantly increasing demand for it in all parts of the world. As far as possible this evidence is laid before the public from time to time, until the most skeptical will acknowledge that for all pulmonary complaints it is truly an invaluable remedy.

PERFECT COUGHS AND COLDS, Pleuritic Pains, etc., are quickly and effectually cured by its diaphoretic, soothing, and expectorant power.

ASTHMA always cures. It overcomes the spasmodic contraction of the air vessels, and by producing free expectoration at once removes all difficulty of breathing.

BRONCHITIS readily yields to the Expectorant. It soothes the inflammation which extends through the wind tubes, produces free expectoration, and suppresses at once the cough and pain.

CONSUMPTION.—For this insidious and fatal disease no remedy on earth has ever been found so effective. It soothes the inflammation, relieves the cough and pain, removes the difficulty of breathing, and produces an easy expectoration, whereby all irritating and obstructing matters are removed from the lungs.

WHOOPING COUGH is promptly relieved by this Expectorant. It shortens the duration of the disease, and all the suffering and expense attending it.

In PULMONARY COMPLAINTS, in Croup, Pleurisy, etc., it will be found to be prompt, safe, pleasant, and reliable, and may be especially commended to Ministers, Teachers, and all who are subject to hoarseness, and for strengthening the organs of the voice.

This EXPECTORANT and all of DR. J. J. JAYNE'S FAMILY MEDICINES, are sold by CURTIS & MOORE and LANGLEY BROS., Victoria, of whom may also be obtained, gratis, "Jayne's Medical Almanac and Guide to the Health of the Family," containing a valuable Calendar, a Catalogue of Diseases, together with the symptoms by which they may be known and the proper remedies for their cure.
